

Professor Numanoglu is the former Charles FM Saint Professor and Head of Division of Paediatric Surgery at Red Cross War Memorial Children's Hospital and University of Cape Town, South Africa. Prof Numanoglu received his undergraduate degree from Ege University in Turkey and specialised in General and Paediatric Surgery in Cape Town.

He has special interest in Minimally Invasive Surgery, Hepatobiliary Surgery, Liver and Kidney transplantation, colorectal surgery, surgical skills training and web based surgical education.

He has served in numerous professional associations as board member, office bearer and president. He is the current president WOFAPS.